ABOUT US

Built around golf. Focused on better solutions.

4Golf was founded by Gert de Jong and Quintin Lambrechts with one clear focus: providing better artificial turf solutions for the golf industry.

What started with driving range mats has developed into a complete range of solutions for golf courses, driving ranges, practice facilities and indoor golf venues. From custom made hitting mats and teelines to putting surfaces, tee boxes, targets and complete artificial turf projects.

Today, our products can be found at more than 300 golf courses.

PROJECTS

Golfclub Bentwoud

From individual solutions to complete golf environments.

Every golf facility is different. That is why we do not believe in one standard solution. We look at the location, the way it is used and what the facility wants to achieve.

Our projects range from custom driving range installations and teelines to putting greens, tee boxes, indoor golf facilities and complete artificial turf environments.

We work closely with golf clubs, operators, architects and other specialists to turn an idea into a practical and durable solution.

INDOOR

Bringing the golf experience indoors.

Indoor golf is about more than installing a simulator. The right surfaces connect the different areas and create an environment that feels professional, comfortable and built around golf.

We provide artificial turf solutions for complete indoor golf facilities, including simulator bays, hitting areas, putting greens, walking surfaces and custom made golf mats.

Every project can be tailored to the space, from a single simulator setup to a complete indoor golf centre. By combining different types of turf, we create a consistent environment for playing, practising and putting.

BRANDING

Turn every shot into brand exposure.

A driving range mat is more than just a surface to hit from. With custom branding, it becomes a highly visible position for sponsors, partners or your own golf club.

We can integrate logos directly into our golf mats, creating a professional finish designed to withstand intensive use. From a single branded mat to a complete driving range featuring multiple sponsors, the design can be tailored to your facility.

Branded mats can create new sponsorship opportunities for golf clubs while giving companies a distinctive presence exactly where golfers spend their time.

MATS

The right mat for the right application.

No two driving ranges are exactly the same. Usage, intensity, location and player preferences all influence which golf mat performs best. That is why we offer different mat constructions instead of one standard solution.

From durable mats for high volume driving ranges to softer premium surfaces, custom sizes and different hitting characteristics, we offer solutions for every type of golf facility. Each mat is designed with performance, stability and durability in mind, allowing golf clubs to choose the surface that best matches their players and the way their driving range is used.

GREENS

Built to putt. Designed to last.

A great putting green is about more than appearance. Ball speed, roll, contours and consistency all determine how realistic the putting experience feels.

We create custom artificial putting greens for golf clubs, practice facilities and indoor golf environments. From compact practice areas to complete putting greens with multiple holes, slopes, fringe and surrounding turf.

Every green can be designed around the available space and intended use, combining different surfaces and contours to create a realistic and challenging practice environment.

OTHERS

More than mats. Complete solutions for golf.

Every part of a golf facility offers opportunities to improve practice, appearance and the overall player experience. That is why our solutions go far beyond traditional golf mats.

We design and supply custom targets, complete teelines, walking turf, teeboxes and landing areas for driving ranges and practice facilities. Each solution can be adapted to the available space, intensity of use and desired appearance.

From a single target or section of turf to a complete practice area, we combine different artificial turf systems to create durable and practical solutions specifically for golf.
